Leader Gould

Mark Holdsworth

EXCLUSIVE Independent report by Ian Parker

Leading East End Militant Jim McVicar and user groups from the Easterhouse Community Centre have given Council leader Bob Gould a resounding answer to the Labour groups proposals to close it down.

They have occupied it!
 One of those in the occupation, 86 year old Sarah Glen has been coming to the Centre ever since it was opened, 26 years ago.

Conservative Parliamentary Candidate

for Springburn, Mark Holdsworth told the Independent, "Several centres could be kept open if it wasn't for the spending of the Labour Council." Despite local councillors assurances that the centre can stay open but not financed by them, many of the user groups of the Centre have decided to tell the City Fathers that enough is enough. The occupiers intend staying put until the Council give in and restore the finance for the Centre.
